PROFILE

I am a dynamic thinker, creative individual, and have a sharp mind for optimization of workflows and patterns. My professional goal is always to make my teammate's lives easier and the work more personable. I have a personality that seeks to organize and arrange chaos into a comprehensive story, and I thrive in an environment with open and easy feedback and communication. I am looking to grow my technical skills in a role where my unique background is valued and my work is meaningful to my teammates.
