Hi there! I'm great at design systems, I write some code, and I like making things work. I solve visual design problems and seek to bridge the gap between customer and designer needs. I value companies that respect their employees, support creativity, and encourage perpetual learning.

EXPERIENCE

ATHENAHEALTH, WATERTOWN, MA

UX Designer, Nov 2019 - Present

• Leading the company design system's transition from Sketch to Figma.
• Led improvements and maintained accuracy of company-wide design system files.
• Implemented 16 new components and accompanying guidance in the company's homegrown design system in a three-month period.
• Sourced additional components from our community of designers and developers.
• Acted as the source of truth for the design libraries.

Senior Emerging Product Services Analyst, Jul 2018 - Nov 2019

• Transitioned epocrates advertising, a critical revenue-driving advertising process, from a remote team to on-site.
• Launched timely advertising messages on a strict schedule.
• Managed ambiguity and inconsistencies surrounding the ad launch process while implementing process improvements and working closely with related teams to streamline interdisciplinary workflows.
• Increased efficiency in a legacy proofreading and edit process by collaborating with new teammates to reduce turnaround time.
• Led weekly conference calls with sales associates to ensure critical ad launch task completion.
• Coded in-app advertisements including paid ads and educational resources hosted in-app.

THE RILEY SCHOOL, ROCKPORT, ME

Outreach & Marketing Coordinator, Jul 2018 - Jun 2019

• Identified areas of improvement for the school and acted independently to manage responsibilities and deadlines.
• Completed a brand refresh that included social media ads, informational materials, banners and guidance.
• Designed and built a new website with contemporary language, imagery, and contact information to better tell the school's story and boost Admissions inquiries, which saw a 200% increase in inquiries in the first two months after launch and has to date been responsible for over 150 applications.
• Worked closely with the Director to design and launch bi-weekly ad campaigns in print across several local news papers, and digitally on Facebook, Google, and Instagram.
• Introduced and implemented HubSpot as an admissions and marketing management tool.
